

Words: NIGEL WILLIAMS

DREAMTIME TALES

Prologue - The Voyage.(2012 edit.)

Music: RICHARD BROWN

$\text{♩} = 104$  Maestoso

Trumpet solo

NARRATOR.

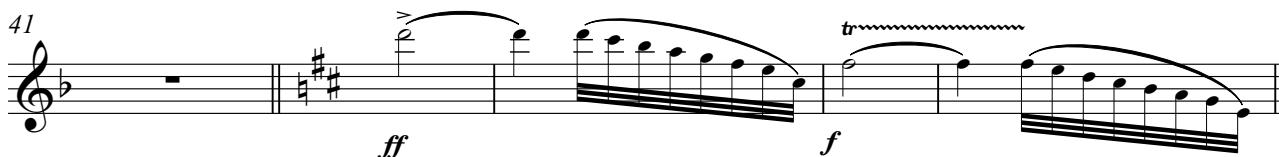

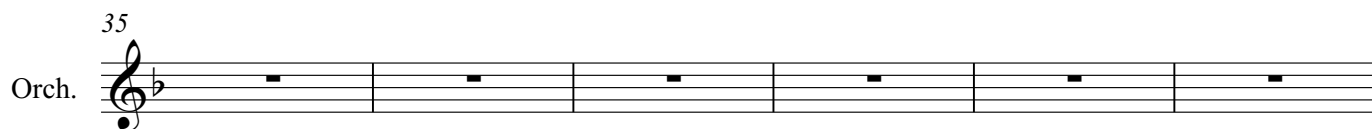

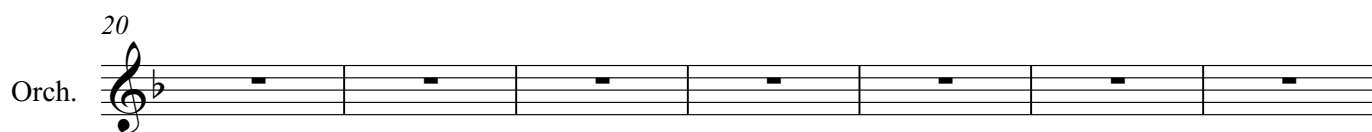

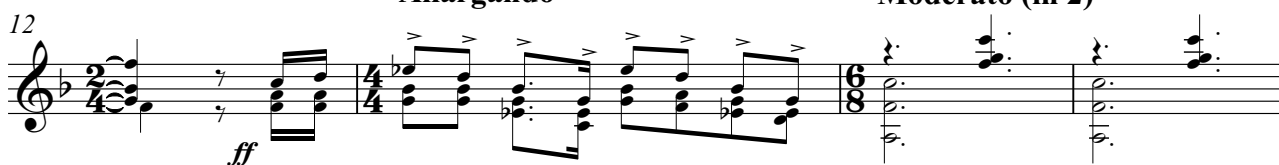

"On the 26th of August 1768, His Majesty's bark Endeavour, commanded by Lieutenant James Cook, was getting ready to set sail."

Molto Maestoso

Allargando

Moderato (in 2)

No.1. THE GALLANT BARK "ENDEAVOUR"

Poco meno mosso -Giocoso

46 ♩ = 90

[Piccolo]

M.NARR. The Gall-ant bark En-deav-our She 52

lay in__ Ply-mouth sound. Blue Pe - ter at__ her fore-mast head, for she_ was out-ward bound. Her or-ders were "pre-pare the ship for sail - ing with the dawn." To the Is-land of Ma

57

63

deir - a, and thence a - round Cape Horn.

ALL

f So

68

haul m' lads a - way m' lads, 'til the sun goes down. We 72

sail for fame and glor - y and the hon - our of the crown.

76

King George's Island in the Pacific Ocean..

...the place we now call Tahiti..

and there to make astronomical observations of the planet Venus as she passed across the Sun.

84

M.NARR and STAGE CHOIR

We'll sail the roll-ing
f

89

o - cean, We'll brave the_south-ern sea. King Georg-e's Is - land, our new berth, Port

94

F.NARR. and STAGE CHOIR

Roy - al our_new quay. Let schol - ars stud - y stars and such, Their an - tics cause much mirth. Their ga - zes they turn heav-en - wards, but we're more down to earth.

99

M.NARR SOLO

104

[ALL] f So haul m'lads a-way m'lads, 'til the sun goes down. We

110

sail for fame and glor-y and the hon - our of the crown. Yes, haul m'lads a-way m'lads,

116

'til the sun goes down. We sail for fame and glor-y and the hon - our of the crown.

Narrators and Orchestra continue until No. 2

122

Orch.

126

Orch.

